Chapter 1

The war times

It all just started all too suddenly. I was just walking, walking with my girls, minding my own self, enjoying the morning breeze, taking in what beautiful life had for me, and just being myself, my own furry self, and suddenly i heard it. Oh how i remember it! still so clear and fresh, as though it had happened yesterday only.

"It happened like an hour ago." Miacat said.

"Would you let me narrate my way" Replied Tinniekitty

"Yeah sure go ahead."

So clear. I heard a distant scream. It was so painful, i still remember. We all heard it. Just when we were realizing the reality we heard it again, more painful more restless. What was it? we wondered. someone somewhere was in trouble we were sure, but who? and where? and what could have caused that painful shriek. Whoever it was, we were sure that it was one of our own. It was a cat. We had to act quick. there was no time to waste. For all we knew somewhere some cat was being tortured! Who knew what the poor thing was being put to this time.

"What if shes being taken to bath?" Alleycat thought out loud.

"Oh i got goosebumps just by the word, that poor thing!" miacat reacted.

"What if someone is stuck in wool, or choked up a furr ball" I said

"Only you do that and scream like you are dying." Mocked Mia.

"Bleh"

We all had our theories, Mia and alley too had some apart from mine which were more real and plausible but well some get brains and some get well...what do they have....height! so anyway one thing we all agreed was it was a matter of urgency we didnt had the time to speculate. It was time for the powerpurr cats to act! We started walking towards the direction of scream, oh how i wish we hadnt but we did. We walked miles and miles.

"Tinnie!!!!! we only walked like 2 mins!" Alley said.

"Oh you dont know! try and walk with my lil paws! it was like a mile only!" they both rolled their eyes on me. Fine we did walk for 2 minutes and what we saw we can never forget.

It was a war!

A real war, with weapons and soldiers. I would not lie i was scared. I was only a kitten! i was powerpurr but i wasnt ready for a real war yet. Saving people from trees and bees was one thing and a war was another. I have no shame in admitting but i did, like most of us would in a situation like this, peed a little.

"Didnt she create a puddle" alley asked.

"She sureee did." Replied mia.

"I was scared" i sheepishly mewwd.

A war does that to people., the best of us. There was a cat lying behind the pile of leaves. Injured, broken, helpless. We had to help her, all that was left of her. Oh i could not look, we were being attacked from all sides. We ducked, and crawled and ducked again and then hid and covered for each other. We had to act strategically, they were everywhere, bombarding and shooting. We were heroic and we were brave to be facing such grave danger, looking it right in the eye.

We were there. We were just there. reaching to her, almost there when suddenly. I was hit.

Yes.

I was hit in the war.

It was too quick and too sudden. I dont know which side it came from, who attacked me. But there i was hit in the war. The pain struck, and it was so brutal that i could not even feel it, it had to be some other kind of a mental torturous pain. All i knew was that it was the end.

The end of me.

The end of life as we know it. At least my life.

My whole life came in front of my eyes, in a flashback.

"You mean your whole life of a month?" Alley interrupted again.

"Would you let me finish my story or not???"

"Fine fine"

The end was near. I turned to alley and mia, my two ok ok cats, who would look after them now, who would protect them and the entire cat realm? the thought kept on howering until i lost the last ounce of life and hope left in me. The other side had won. Mia and alley took me in their paws and admist all the attacks, they ran. Ran to save me.

"She does know that those were just water balloons thrown by kids right? and she did not die she just got water on herself??" Mia whispered to alley.

"Shhh, let her finish her exaggerated version of everything" Alley hushed mia.

Wars are a painful time. Lifes are lost. That day i was lost.

I died.

"I wish!" Mia said.

"Bleh" I replied.

Chapter 2

THE POWER"PURR" CATS

THE POWERPUFF CATS

"Sorry Rebeca but you can't use POWERPUFF as it belongs to us" says buttercup.

"FINE..... I will change it. But have you heard of the word S-H-A-R-I-N-G!!" says Rebeca.

THE POWER"PURR" CATS

This is a story of three cats AlleyCat MiaCAT and me Rebeca (well there is no cat in my name as I am a kitty popularly known as Tinniekitty in my cat family!).

Once upon a time and Blah.... blah. Why do we have to start in this way?

So where was I? Yeah.

So there is this girl Nikki. She loves cats. She owned Mia then Alley. They were all so happy just going to have their "and they lived happily ever after" story. Until that day.

The sky had clouds sctattered every where. The sun was afraid of something that's why couldn't show the courage to come up. It was all dark that day. No sign of light and happiness as if everything has come to an halt due to a curse by an evil magician. The wolfs were howiling as never before and the owls were also scared. Something really bad was going to happen everyone knew that. The news channels gave a warning to stay at home as anything could happen. Mia and Alley were aslo scared about this unknown threat to earth. But they thought they are safe with Nikki around them. They had no idea how wrong they were. The winds were trying to freeze everyones blood and the ocean wanted to take everything inside it. Nikki was in her living room with Mia and Alley sitting under the chair or rather hiding there. It was lightning badly and raing heavily. The whole atmosphere was all so monstrous. Everything was just too scary. Then something happened. There was a knock on Nikki's door. MiaCat and Alleycat wished that Nikki would not open the door but it was too late. Nikki opened the door. And then there was the most trrific sight anyone could ever see. They saw a shadow in the dark. The shadow was so monstor like. It was bad really BAD. And then that thing smiled. The smile was a deadly grin telling the two cats that it is their end. AlleyCat and MiaCat were shivering out of fear. They never saw such a thing such a scary to deaths thing. It was an evil EVIL.

It was ME hahahahahhahaha!!!

Then I came in their world. Nikki owned me because I made her look in my little cute kitty eyes. Everything changed after my entrance. Their nightmares came true. Their lives were changed I ruined them. Muahahahahahahahaha.....

I was a kitty but still a dangerous cat. I was EVIL. It felt like being a devil and having the fun of.....

"TINNIE.... come down right NOW!!! Out from your "I am evil" fantasies RIGHT NOW!!" MiaCat shouted.

Uhhhh!!!! A kitty can't even focus on her fantasies when two annoying cats are around her. Can't they just sit with tapes on their mouths and let me have some fun. I just want to be a royal cat who just don't work at all. But NO!! AlleyCat wanted to become a super hero so now we are THE POWER"PURR" CATS. How it all started.... ummm. It started only after i came. It was a beautiful day. I could hear the fairies singing a welcome song and the birds were chirping in the chorus. The sun was smiling and the clouds were clapping. The wind blew my fur like a mother moves her hands. Every part of nature was trying to witness the awesome event that was just going to happen in Nikki's house. I was going to open my eyes. I was excited about this big change that was going to happen. I was going to open my little eyes and see this world thats just waiting for me to to see it. I finally opened my eyes. I slowly opened them to make it look natural and dramatic.

blink blink

Awww.... everything was just beautiful around me. It was Nikki and me and only us. MY Nikki and MY house. Wow that was a great feeling. I was jut in Nikki's lap and enjoying this new gift of seeing the world through my own eyes but then i just heard something. Something that was very familiar. It gave me shivers. No no Tinnie kitty it was nothing... it must be Nikki's radio or TV show or something. Don't worry. So i curled myself in Nikki's lap. I was enjoying the catnip when i heard it again. It was it it was it. I t sounded like like.... like like A CAT!!!

Oh please say you dont have a cat, please say you dont have a cat. OK OK take a breath take a breath. Calm down. I rolled the corner of my eyes to see if it was there. I saw it. Not one but there WERE TWO CATS!!!! Nooooo..... two which was bigger and more dangerous then one. OK ok maybe it is a side effect of opening eyes or a dream ok! Come on Kitty be brave look down face it face it! So i again saw down through Nikki's lap.

"Hey!!!" they both said together.

Oh no oh no oh no oh no no no no no nooooooooooooooooooo!!!!!!

I holded my imaginary knife and stabbed it in my heart! Someone please kill me. She already had two big cats!!!!! HELP MEEEEEEEEE!!!!!!!!!!

"I bet she is thinking about the day she opened her eyes" AlleyCat said.

"sigh I remember it. Our little kitty with little little paws and a little brain," MiaCat said. And looked towards me. And then she added....

"It seems things have't changed much with the brain". And then smiled evily at me.

"Ohh don't pull her leg! She is the youngest of us all!" Alleycat said while playing with a toy Nikki bought for her.

"uhhhhh!!! why do you always take her side?" Miacat asked while giving me her "can I kill you pweaty please look".

"oh! stop it, I dont want that alley loves me more fight again.We have got another mission. So get ready you both." Alleycat said and went to kitchen to see what Nikki has to give her this time.

I know she will get another fishie. Miacat and Alleycat gets fish and what do i get? Cat food!!! Haha!! It sucks! But Alleycat gives me her's sometimes when Mia and Nikki are not around. Poor AlleyCat she can't ressist my kitty eyes.

"Yeah kitty get ready you can see us saving someone coz we all know what you will do." Mia said and went to see Alleycat.

Oh yeah oh yeah we will save someone AGAIN!! Why can't we act like NORMAL cats playing around the house and showing attitude? I want to be a cat that one day opens her eyes and sees that she is the queen. Wow that would be so good. Like everyday we have a new mission and we HAVE to accomplish it. It is not that we have this in a contact but it is like now it is a routine. We play with dangers and risk our lives but we do not fear. I still remember the first time we did a rescue mission. It was dangerous like hell. I could have lost my life but I didn't cared Nor did Alley or Mia, we were brave and we had the guts to enter the mess. We still have. Everything is so clear in my head. Like it just happened yesterday. Come let me take you to the flashback. Oh and please this is not a black and white flashback.

It was a beautiful morning. We all were out for our morning walk. We were walking like royal cats in slow motion with our head held high. Suddenly alley heard something. We all heard it then.

We figured where the noise was coming from. We turned to see it together.

"Look what happened" I said.

"A kitty is stuck in the wool she was playing with." Mia said.

"We shall save her"Alley said.

She then turned to face us and added "but I want your help I can't do it alone. We need to be together in this crisis. I know there is danger there anything can happen with us but still are we ready? Will you help me." And then she extended her paw.

Mia and I saw each other. And then...

"We are always with you Alleycat!" Miacat said to alley and kept her paw on alley's paw.

"Yes... Whatever she said." I said and did the same.

(Now I think I should have said something powerful at that time! Anyways back to te flash back!)

Then we headed towards that kitty. And then we came to see that it was not one roll of wool but there were three. The little kitty was so scared. We went to her and said.

"Kitty it is ok we have come to save you."

"oh i dont think anything can be done now. Please tell my mom that I love her." she said.

"awww..... don't worry we will do something." we all said.

We took a round and examined her condition. And then

" I will go with the red." AlleyCat said.

" Blue for me." Miacat said.

"I dont have a choice." I said.

We started. We were sweating badly each second was crucial we can't take the risk of resting we didn't had a option. We were continiuosly moving our hands we had to save her. Then after 10 minutes Alleycat and Miacat stoop up. They saw each other and gave a high five to each other. They were done with their parts. Then they saw towards me.

"umm.... I thinkg I have messed it a little.. Hehe....!" I said and smiled sheepishly.

I was able to remove and the wool from that kitty but I forgot to keep it away from me. So now I was badly stuck in it.

Alleycat leaned and started unweaving the mess out of me.

"Come on Mia lets finish this quickly." Alleycat said to miacat.

"ummm.... I dont know Alley I think we should just leave her like this. Don't you think she looks better like this?" Miacat said and grinned at me with her eveil look.

Finally I was saved!! And then we three stood up took our imaginary swords in our hands and our imaginary hats were on our heads. We together said....

"We are the wonder cats the POWERPURR CATS!!!! And we will save you from anything and everything!!!!" we were still looking towards sky in the feeling of great happiness and proud.

"Sorry I am disturbing you but will you please step down of my tail!!" that little kitty said to alleycat.

"Oh... hehe!!! Oops!!" alley said and we all came back to home. We were tired and hungry.

"Hey cats where were you all this time?" Nikki said to all of us.

"Oh nothing we were just saving someone...." Alley said.

"Wh.... WHAT?? She can talk to Nikki?????" I said to all of them I was surprised.

"HELLOOOOOOO!!!!!! IT IS YOUR STORY!!!!" they all said in chorus.

"Cool" I said.

end of flash back

ok so this is something i just wrote a while ago to have fun and as i don't have anything to post so i am posting it lol!!) so if anyone likes it i will continue!

Chapter 3

THE POWER"PURR" CATS 2

"So Alley what's the mission today?" Miacat asked while we were on our way to our destination.

"well I don't know it clearly yet... But it is something really serious this time for sure..." Alleycat said in a scary tone.

"You.. You mean..." I tried to say.

"Yes it's someone's life or death case....." Alley said.

"No cat... I hate such cases...." Miacat said.

"I know.. I know.. But what can we do... It is what it is.." Alley said while driving in an inhuman speed. Our fur were blowing with the wind At one turn she was so fast that I was nearly gone with the wind out of the window but luckily Miacat saved my life. The whole atmosphere was tense. It was strange to see alley driving the cat car with that speed... anyway

"Ok cats we are here... Take your positions..!" Alley ordered us.

"You mean, get out of the car, right?" I asked.

"yes that's what she meant but you are not coming." Miacat said. While getting out of the car.

"WHAT?? WHY?? ALLEY!!" I said or I should say I cried.

"Yes why Mia I mean.. Why cant she come with us?" Alleycat asked Miacat.

"Alley you know why! She is too small for all this... She will get hurt! We cant risk her life.... You know how delicate she is... No I cant let anything happen to her." Miacat said.

"WOW! That was strange coming from you." Alley said to Miacat. And then turned backseat to talk to me.

"I am sorry Tinnie... But Mia is right... We cant let you hurt yourself!" She said to me while handling me a candy.

"Oh really you think this candy will make the difference?? I don't think so." I said to her with my angry voice. Then Miacat pooped in through the window and said: "How about 2 of them?" she asked me.

"FINE... But only this time... " I said while taking that candy in my mouth.

"GREAT.. I will bring a toy for you as a souvenir!" She said and then ran in the garden nearby. I watched them running like a cheetah in their black cat suits. Then they were out of my vision. I wonder what the mission is this time. Let me guess... Someone is drowning in the water pot kept for birds. Or there is a fight between twin cats or is it the wool story again... What if it is a DOG?? No no... Please God, save my cats!

ALLEY'S POV

Miacat and I were heading towards the center of the garden. Our radar was showing us signals and we were just following it.

"What is that whole crowd about?" Miacat said.

"Please say they are giving kitty toys with complementary fish!!" I said. Don't look so surprised! I live with tinniekitty!! There will be some impact of her madness on me... DUH!!

"haha... Fishie would be good!! but no... I can see a hot cat there!!" Miacat said. but all I heard was HOT CAT!!

"Oh pish posh stop drooling on him.... you have not even seen him yet!!" she said. And that reminded me of a serious question.

"aa...a... Mia why am I not able to see anything??" I asked her. I can feel something terribly wrong somewhere. It was all black in front of my eyes. Was I blind folded? Or was that a conspiracy of the wattpad ninja's to call me and Mia and kidnap us? But how can she see things and I can't. What's happening?

"OH good question..... lemmi think... ummm... AHA maybe because you are wearing your strange glasses that you and Tinniekitty painted to make it look cool!!!" Miacat answered.

"why the hell are you still wearing them?" she said while taking those glasses off me.

"hehe... I always wanted to wear them! hehe" I replied and smiled sheepishly.

"OMG!!!! HE IS A HOT CAT!! I WANT HIM!!" I said.. His white fur with black stripes and ocean eyes... they were calling me.... I am coming I am coming....

"hahahahaahha!! your hot cat is the victim sweetie!" Miacat said.

"WHAT??" I asked. Then we went near him. We inspected the case. It was a clear case of..... FUR BALL.

"grrrrr... Sometimes I hate our job!" I said.

"Hhahahahahaha... Lucky tinnie!" She said. We went near him and helped him spit the hairball. He was so cute. We both saw in each others eyes. His smile was amazing.

"Thanks.... I am tomcat." He said. His voice was umm... yummm...

"A... a.. all... ale..." I stuttered.

"ALLEYCAT... she is Alleycat and I am Miacat." Mia said. I cant believe I forgot my name. He was sooo cute. I can keep looking him like this but Miacat dragged me and he left.

"Comeon... He is gone now!!! Tinniekitty is alone there... Remember!!" She said to me.

"Uh!! FINE!! but I am gonna miss tomcat... awww.. such a cute name!!" I said. Then we started going back to where we parked our car.

"Oops you have to take something for tinnie as a souvenir... wanna go in the toy shop?" I asked her.

"Oh don't worry I have taken something for her!" she said with a grin.

"What is it? Show me!" I ordered her. I knew, she has done something funny this time. She was not able to stop her own laughter.

"As you say," she said and brought her paw forward. I opened her wrist. And what I saw made me start laughing. Now we both were on the floor and laughing on the souvenir she found to give to tinnie.

"The FUR BALL!!!! Are you serious?? hahahahaha!!! come-on hahahahahaha!!! why do you this to her.... haahahahahahaha!!!" wow... Miacat is the craziest of us all for sure.

"WHAT?? Don't you know her?" she asked she was serious this time.

"What are you talking about?" I asked her while dragging her to the nearby kitty toy shop owned by Ashley. We asked Ash to get some cool toys for our kitty. Ash always knows what tinnie wants! Then we went to the "D-Lavis Coffee house" to relax a bit. It's a great place to be. Kieron made the special drinks for us as he always does. Oh and by special drink I mean "milk." We sat on our usual chair and started with where we left it.

"Oh come on! She likes it! don't you remember when I was sick and couldn't talk to her... She was upset all the time! u see its how she is... she just gets too depressed if someone who she likes to talk to stops talking to her... then she will have all the bad thoughts all the time... and she will start over thinking on what she did.. and all... so its like just be with her... you can tease her if she loves you." Miacat said. Yeah now I remember.

"Aw... I didn't know.. You tease her to make her happy!! Now give me that furr ball!! I have to tease our little cat!" I said.

"HAHA!! NOWAYS!! only I have the right to do that Back off cat!!" she said. We laughed a little and finished our Milk.

"Thanks! Kerion!" Mia shouted.

"we should go back to tinnie! Being alone is her second biggest fear!!" Miacat said.

"o.. really? what's the 1st one?" I asked.

" Oh going to school!" she answered. It's a myth in our cat specie that small human kids have to go to a scary place called "school" and there they get to do work like "homework" and have people who get paid for torturing kids and are known as "teachers." But it's an old story that our ancestors told. We have many great writers writing fictional stories on this "school" thing. Some people believe in it but I know its all just a story and there is no such place called school!! I mean hello... HOMEWORK!!!! What do they think of us?? anyway Tinniekitty saw that famous movie in the cat theatre near our home named "THE TRUTH OF THE SCARY SCHOOL" and since then she used to have nightmares of being in a school. We told her that it was just a story... School doesn't even exist!

Chapter 4

THE POWER"PURR" CATS 3

The PowerPurr Cats 3

Alley cat's pov

Three of us came for a nice night walk. Why not a morning walk? Humm...

"Fine ME me! I am the reason! I can't wake up! HAPPY" Tinniekitty almost shouted on Miacat while I was trying to focus on beauty of nature.

"Alley remove your movie glasses!" Mia demanded. Oops she caught me. It seems like only Mia is enjoying the nature. Wait a minute!!

"Mia, take off your IPod!!" gosh no one is paying any attention to the surroundings! What if there is an emergency somewhere? It's our duty to protect every little creature from any sort of danger. No one in this place should be in a danger. We are here to save everyone. And if we don't pay attention anything can happen. This place is full of little creatures that depend on us. They look up to us when they sniff a danger. Sniff... sniff...

"omg! Is it? Is it really?" I said more to myself. Forget the duty! It's a fresh fishie smell! Muahahahaha!! Poor pool here we come.

"Come on cats! We have a treat" I said enthusiastically.

"But is it right... i mean we are the powerpurr cats... aren't we supposed to save everyone... and not hunt around?" Tinniekitty asked. Oh little tinniekitty... my little no brain tinniekitty!

"We are! We are saving! We are saving the pool! From that little bad fishie!!" I explained her.

"And maybe because you are so thoughtful, we can find more bad fishies in the pool." Miacat said in her angelic voice.

"Seems like its good thing then!" Tinniekitty added.

And with that our ears pointed upwards. We became what tinniekitty always dreamt of, EVIL!! Miacat quickly snatched a fork from a little girl who was eating noodles. Noodles at midnight in the park?

"you sure those were noodles and not someone's veins, mia?" I asked.

The smell was getting stronger Yumm....!!

We were almost there. Just few more steps and then PARTY!!

"Oh o..." Tinniekitty said in between my fantasy.

"What oh o... you want to pee oh o... or have already peed oh o...?" Miacat asked her.

"No its the "look someone is eating our fishie" oh o" Tinniekitty said pointing in the direction where the monster was standing.

"THE BUTT MAN!" we all hissed the name.

"He is dead now" Both Mia and Tinniekitty said together.

"Hey! Mind if I ask what you are doing?" Miacat asked trying to control her anger.

"Eating the fish! What do you think Pinky?" he replied while chewing.

"Oh no" tinniekitty uttered.

"oh no... mia... don't be too harsh, He said it by mistake!" i tried to calm Mia but as I thought I was late. I pulled Tinnikitty aside for safety reasons. Gosh how I wish we could have escaped this major fight, but no... I am afraid... We will have to stay to call the ambulance for the..... buttman!

"Did you just say pinky?" Miacat asked him. Oh no... Her eyes are narrowed, just the way she does it before hunting. First she distracts the victim in a funny talk, and then Bang! The next second his prey is under a deadly grip begging to be freed. She attacks!! I wonder if it's too much for tinniekitty to watch. I mean it's violent. Rebeca change this chap to PG!

"alley whats gonna happen now?" Scared tinniekitty asked in her already choking voice.

"Nothing sweety! If you see something red its tomato ketchup ok?" I lied.

After few seconds the fight started. I closed Tinniekitty's eyes so that she can't see anything. And absentmindedly my eyes shut as well. All I heard were some deadly screams. Cries for help that almost tore my eardrums. After a while I heard one last cry, so painful, I knew it's over. Miacat again showed no mercy. I slowly opened my eyes only to see dust swirling the area where Miacat took her deadly revenge. It was all dust and I couldn't see anything in the dark due to it. After few seconds I saw Miacat coming out of the dust that rose because she was so fast. She was clearing the dust of her hands. And there is the BUTT-MAN.

"Oh no.... Mia what have you done??" I almost cried, could not see that scary sight. I kept Tinniekitty's eyes closed with my paws. The BUTT-MAN was standing there with a PINK bow and his fur decorated with PINK beads with his tail tied in a designer knot. His small ears were tied with elastic making them look like two little pony tails. And there was a purple candy badly stuffed in his mouth. Gosh miacat!! How can she be so violent?

"buttman.... buttman..." I nearly sang in a caring tone. No reply. Oh he must have gone in some kind of trauma!

"You want us to take you to hospital?" I again asked him. He saw towards us. Completely scared.

"Miacat is great, all fishes belong to her and the powerpurr cats" He chanted. He was shivering.

"good cat! No go home Pinky!!" Miacat teased him and he ran from there.

That's the reason we try not to make Miacat angry, as the results can be disastrous. BEAWARE!!!

****

OH and Belated happy birthday to BUTT MAN!
